declined-fearing the consequences at the hands of the gang. After the assault the ruffians Bed, two of them, Bully Nelson and Martin Michaels, taking refuge in the rum-shop of Feiix Larkin, No. 73 King street, he being, as is said, one of their number. As soon as possible the assistance of Officers Kaylor, Roberts, O'Neil and Wiseburn of the same district was procured, and they entered Larkin's place for the purpose of arresting Nelson and Michaels, both of up had hid themselves away up stairs. These fellows had secured a large butcher-knife, and as the officers approached them threatened to kill the first man that should lay his hand upon them. The officers at first thought prudent to arm themselves before atsempting to arrest the scoundrels, and one of their number started to the Station-House for a pistol, but while he was gone the others attacked the desparadoes with their clubs, and after a desperate fight captured them. As they were being taken to the Station-House Michaels broke loose from the officer who had him in charge, and, running into a grocery on the corper of Laurens and Prince streets, seized a large meat-knife and attempted to kill the officer with it, but a blow on the head from the "locust" brought him to terms, and he was, with his companion, safely lodged in the Police Station. Bully Nelson is of the gang who some weeks ago entered the City Hotel, and after insulting Councilman Wild created a serious disturbance, and nearly killed two or three of the servants. The day following warrants for the arrest of Nelson, Cunningham and others were issued by Justice Osborne, and placed in the hands of a detailed policeman; but for some reason he has never arrested either of them, though he could have done so at almost any moment, and passes their principal resort daily. Not long since some of this gang went into a porter-house on the corner of Broome and Laurens streets while drunk, and, because the keeper would not give them more liquor, they dragged him from behind the bar and beat him with bottles until he was insensible. This victim afterward refused to prefer a complaint against them, fearing that, if he did so; they would take his life. The members of this gang almost nightly defy the police to touch them, and claim to have sufficient political influence to free them from all punishment, let their crimes be ever so aggra-

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

BROOKLYN CITY COURT-JAN. 12-Before Judge Cul

BROOKLYN CITY COURT—Jax. 12—Before Judge Culver and Supervisors Strubwill and Kelsey.

The People agt. Heary P. Curtis, Police Magistrate.

The indictment charges the defendant with falsely imprisoning Capt. R. W. Call of the Fourth District Police, on the 13th of April last, at the City Hall. The circumstances out of which the matter rose are, that the complainant, Capt. Call, had taken to Justice Cartis a prisoner charged with grand larceny, but that the Justice refused to entertain the charge, and afterward the captain made some observation on the subject which the defendant construed into a contempt of Court, and committed Capt. Call to guasted y and detained him for six hours without process, hearing or warrant. The indictment was laid under the statute rendering public officers lishle to punishment for false imprisonment, and the District-Attorney argued that the Court not being a Court of Record, and not actually engaged in hearing any case, it was not in sossion, and the defendant had certainly acted without suthority. Several witnesses were examined and counsel summed np, when the Judge stated that he should charge the Jury on Monday.

SATURDAY, Jan. 12-p. m. The Stock market was rather more active this morn ing, but weak. The tendency, with but few exceptions, continued to be downward during the day. The operators for a rise find the Money market continues o stringent for the success of their movements, and they receive but little aid from outside orders. Under the circumstances, the market is fairly sustained, and more ease in carrying stocks is all that is necessary to produce an active and buoyant market. At the Second Board the market was not materially changed, but remained heavy; small sales of Government 6's, 1867-'68, were made at 1161@1171, the first public transactions for a long time.

The foreign advices by the Canada were not considered to be favorable, which had some effect upon stocks. A portion of the financial letters are written in a cheerful spirit, while another portion are less hopeful. All speak of the stringency of money as being considerable, but trade generally appears to be in as favorable and sound condition as could be expected. We hear of no stocks sent out for sale and of very few orders to purchase.

The market for Exchange closed without variation The business for the Arago has not been very large, and the tendency of rates has been downward, especially for Francs. Three or four back Southern mails have been received with large amounts of bills.

The Trustees state that they have no reason whatever to doubt that, with the means now on hand, and the proceeds of the stock yet to be received, they will have the means to discharge every incumbrance upon the lands before the close of the ensuing year.

The Trustees report that the Company own 1,431 acres coal lands, extending three miles along George's Creek, all of which contain the fourteen feet vein. They also own 1,000 acres contiguous, containing the smaller veins. The best lands are at an average distance of only 6½ miles from Piedmont, the point of junction with the Baltimore and Ohio Road. Of the sales during the year, 20,711 tuns were to the Baltimore and Ohio Road for the use of their freight engines. Business had been dull. The Money Market was without change. Heavy rains had fallen and the miners were fully and profitably employed. The San Francisco Shipping

"During the past fortnight the market generally has been very dull, and rates in many leading articles have declined. The demand from the country, notwithstanding that sufficient rain has fallen to enable List says: have declined. The demand from the country, notwithstanding that sufficient rain has fallen to enable the miners to get to work and consequently to justify a revival of trade, has continued very light, and the jobbers here seeing no advantage in purchasing goods on a falling market, and feeling generally disposed to let their stock, run down at the close of the year, have only been in the market for such goods as they found indispensable to keep up their assortments. It is hoped that within a month a general revival will take place, but meanwhile but little is deing, and at the close business is duller than we have seen it for many months past. The stocks in first hands are accumulating rapidly, and henceforth we must expect very considerable additions to them every fortnight. The demand for loans upon merchandies at 2/d3 $\frac{2}{2}$ cent is not quite so active.

"In real estate there is absolutely nothing doing worthy of notice. Loans can be procured at 1/d2 $\frac{2}{2}$ cent. When we contemplist the present condition of the city, a comparison with that of only six months since irresistibly forces upon us some bright expectations for the future. We had then in every quarter houses and stores unoccupied, and but few ventured to foretell when the downward progress of prices and reuts would cease. Yet now, though difficult to test the value of lots and houses, so few actual sales being made, routs seem to have come to a stand, and the ominous notice "To Let" no longer greef as at every turn.

"Since our last the rains have fallen heavily in most parts of the State, including the mining regions and in most districts the surply of water is sufficient for the present wants of the population. The miners are at present generally at work, but the results of their labors are not yet apparent in this ciry. The supply of Dust is at present very light, and hars have again sone up to par. Within a few weeks, however, we may expect a pleutiful supply of the precious metal from the mountains.

"In Stocks literally nothing has been done. The only feature of the market worthy of record is an issue of about $180,000 State Controller's warrants, in payment for work alleged to have been done on the State Prison. The issue is considered, to say the least, a very suspicious movement, no appropriation having been made for it by the Legislature; and there are not wanting those who charge direct fraud on the parties interested. State Warrants, in consequence have declined very materially, but we doubt if the depression will be more than temporary.

"Of late a series of violent attacks have been made in one of our daily papers on the character and standing of a prominent and old established banking nonse in this city, which we merely ailude to lest parties in the East might be led into error by secing them."

A statement just issued by Mr. James Low shows the shipments of specie from Great Britain to th East during the present year to have amounted to the extraordinary aggregate of £7,358,161-the proportions being £948,272 gold, and £6,409,889 silver. This total is larger than on any former occasion-the heaviest amount in any previous year having been in 1853, when it was £5,590,867. Nearly the whole has been absorbed by the Indian and Chinese drain, which has now continued with little interruption for five years. The total shipments, from 1851 to 1855 incluive, have amounted to £22,625,687, or an average of £4,525,000 P annum. In addition to the sum sent from England during the past year, £1,767,479 have been dispatched from the Mediterranean ports. We annex our usual extracts from the financial arti

We annex our usual extracts from the mancial and cles of the latest London papers:

"The English funds showed renewed flatness to-day and closed | Went lower than yesterday. Influential sales of stock continue, while no new political feature has arisen to confirm the views of the speculators who have entered into operations based upon the hope of peace. An impression prevailing that to-night's Bank return would present a considerable diminution in the bullion, the announcement of a large arrival of gold from Australia failed to produce any favorable effect. from Australia failed to produce any favorable effect. The market was also restrained from any rally by the continued stringency of the money market. "At Paris to-day the Three per Cent Rentes closed a shade firmer than yesterday. The Vienna money market has experienced some improvement, owing, probably, to a continuance of pacific rumors; the exchange on London has declined from 10.46 to 10.41. At Berlin, Russian stock is flatter.

"Consols varied between 88½ and 88½, and were finally quoted 88½ to ½ ex div, for the 10th of Jan."

"The English funds experienced a further fall of ½ per cent this morning, owing to sales imputed to the broker who usually acts for the Bank of England and for Government. These operations are rumored to be connected with the financial requirements of the Administration, and induce caution, owing to the prevalent uncertainty as regards their probable extent. Toward the close, however, more firmness was manifested, in sympathy with the improvement on to-day's Paris Bourse, and the reduction finally established scarcely exceeded ½ per cent, as compared with the closing range of yesterday. Reports that a French loan will be announced, even before the English one, exercise a depressing influence.

"In the discount market money was in good demand to-day, at full rates. In the Stock Exchange money was more wanted, owing partly to the share settlement, and commanded 54 per cent upon Government stocks."—[Daily News, Friday 28th.

"The English funds opened this morning at the dull prices of yesterday, and subsequently experienced a further slight decline. Consols were first quoted 88; to § ex. dividend. From this they receded to 88; but at the close, owing to steady prices from Paris, there were buyers at 88;. The uncertainty regarding peace or war renders the public indisposed to make investments, and the flatness thus occasioned is increased by the pressure for money usual at the close of the year, the absence of news and the gradual loss of reliance among the principal operators upon the prospect of the diplomatic movements at Vienna leading to anything but injurious complications. In the Stock-Exchange the demand for loans for short periods is extremely active, but, as the Bank make advances at 6 P cent till the payment of the dividends, that rate will not be exceeded on Government securities, although higher terms are naid upon other descriptions.

the will not be exceeded on Government securities, although higher terms are paid upon other descriptions.

Letters from well-informed parties in France continue to express a belief that peace is not remote, but this impression is not generally shared on this side. Although the French Government is described as making great efforts to postpone the announcement of a new loan, it is thought that this financial operation making great efforts to postpone the announcement of a new loan, it is thought that this financial operation will shortly be resorted to, as less onerous to the Treasury than a further rise in the rate of interest upon Bons du Trésor. The floating speculation for a rise on the Bourse is considered somewhat diminished, though still heavy. The position of the Bank of France is stated to show some further improvement, owing to its daily purchases of bullion. These advices mention, as a striking feature, that the dividend upon the shares of the Bank is only 100f., instead of 145f., which latter amount might have been distributed but for the metallic drain upon the institution."

The other operations comprised—Mexican, for account, 20; Dutch Four per Cent Certificates, 94/295 for money, and 93/2 for the account. A holiday was observed on the Paris Bourse to-day, to welcome back the Imperial Guard.

Nothing has yet been decided with respect to 5the £416,000 in gold brought by the Donald McKay, but it is expected that the principal portion will be taken for the Bank of France.

Mereantile advices from St. Petersburg of the 18th inst. contain the significant announcement that the Banks had limited the amount of their cash payments "owing to the scarcity of bullion," but that they had not ceased issuing cash entirely. This will explain the urgent efforts recently made at Berlin and elsewhere to raise a loan almost on any terms.

A circular has been issued this afternoon by Messrs. Carter & Co., the shipowners, who suspended a year ago under very honorable circumstances, announcing a payment in full of all their creditors, with five per cent interest, on the 5th of January next. Their liabilities amounted to £33,000.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20.—There is a healthy tone about the market, but the holidays have prevented much business being transacted. Prices are firm, especially for all the staple-makes of cloth suited to the India and China markets, which are held in too small quantities to supply any but very moderate orders. In most of these goods an early delivery can only be secured by giving some advance in price. At the rates now ruling manufacturers have had offers which would place them under contract until next midsummer, but declined them, in anticipation that more remunerative terms will be obtainable. In yards there has been a quiet market, but the better class of India counts are in fair request, and spinners

The strike of the operative spinners and piecers is regarded as drawing to a close. The money collected for their support last week was sufficient only for a dividend of 1/$\psi$ head, and they have begun to resort to intimidation as the only means of keeping some of their number from resuming emplyment.

The arrivals of grain and flour since this day se unight are large, and embrace 34,700 quarters of wheat, 17,633 barrels and 6,435 sacks of flour, 18,115 quarters of Indian core, and 12,000 quarters of Egyptian beans. Of oats, barley, peas, and catmeal, the imports are small. As is usual at this season of the year, the grain trade has been languid, and few transactions are reported. With only a moderate attendance of millers and dealers at our Corn Exchange yesterday, there was a general indisposition toward business. The importers are not pressing sales, but in the small transactions of the day a reduction of about 1d. $\psi$ bushel on red and 2d. $\psi$ bushel on American white Wheat from this day se'nnight was submitted to. Flour declined 1/$\psi$ barrel and sack. Indian Corn declined about 2/$\psi$ quarter; and Oat-Meal 1/$\psi$ loushel; Beans 6d. $\psi$ quarter, a

The telegraphic advices from China to-day indicate a further movement in the exchanges calculated to keep up the export of silver from this side. The rate is stated to have advanced at Canton from 4/9½ to 4/10, and at Shanghae from 6/6 to 6/7½.

By the accounts from Eypt it appears that the prohibition against the exportation of wheat and Indian corn, which was shortly to have taken effect, has been rescinded.
